

CMC-Canada (the Canadian Association of Management Consultants) fosters excellence and integrity in the management consulting profession as a whole. CMC-Canada administers, and its provincial Institutes confer, the Certified Management Consultant (CMC) designation in Canada. The Association and its members advocate for the CMC designation and are dedicated to advancing the profession and delivering the benefits of those efforts to the client community. CMC-Canada is a founding member of the International Council of Management Consulting Institutes (ICMCI).

CMC-Canada
4 King Street West, Suite 815
Toronto, Ontario M5H 1B6
consulting@cmc-canada.ca
www.cmc-canada.ca
1-800-268-1148

Student Membership

Your Future Starts Now

Invest in your success. Student membership gives you a jump-start on the path to the Certified Management Consultant (CMC) designation – the one global standard of achievement for management consulting. Learn from the best minds in the business and network with top professionals. Make the contacts that will make your career happen.

Consulting as a Career Option

Management consulting is a profession with its own objectives, methods, rules and organization.

As with any profession, there is no one perfect model against which every entrant can be measured, but there are certain characteristics that affect the consultant's chance of success and personal job satisfaction. In management consulting, particular importance is attached to analytical and problem-solving abilities, as well as to competence in the behavioural area, communicating and working with people, and helping others to understand the need for change and how to implement it.

Qualities of a consultant

- ♦ ethics and integrity;
- ♦ intellectual ability;
- ♦ ability to understand and work with people;
- ♦ ability to communicate, persuade and motivate;
- ♦ intellectual and emotional maturity; and
- ♦ personal drive and initiative.

Like other professionals, consultants hold strong values concerning the conduct of their work. CMC-Canada has developed a Code of Professional Conduct for its members. Since the profession is currently unregulated, this Code offers a uniform set of guidelines for members, and protection to the public.

Invest in your career. Enhance your skills.

Invest in Your Career

The fee for student membership is only $40 per year, plus GST. This special rate is available to:

- ♦ full-time students at a recognized Canadian university
- ♦ community college students who possess a university degree.

A photocopy or scan of your student ID card, or letter from your university confirming your full-time status, must be submitted with your application form.

A Wealth of Benefits

Student members receive career-boosting benefits at a fraction of the cost of professional membership:

- ♦ access the wisdom and experience of some of the best minds in the business and acquire real world insights, comparing notes with consultants who have 'been there, done that';
- ♦ access the latest information on industry trends, people, and news through CMC-Canada publications, mailings and website;
- ♦ attend online courses, local workshops and seminars – at discounted member rates;
- ♦ access a wide range of educational opportunities, including the Essentials of Management Consulting course;
- ♦ join a chapter committee or task force that will help shape the policies that in turn shape the profession; and
- ♦ make your views heard – contribute to chapter or national newsletters.

Exceptions

The student member fee does not include:

- ♦ voting privileges at provincial Institute AGMs or Special General Meetings;
- ♦ service partner benefits such as Professional Liability, Health, Dental, Home, or Auto Insurance;
- ♦ membership listing in the online member directory; or
- ♦ the 2007 Industry Study Member Briefing.

For more information on member benefits, the CMC designation, or to complete an application form, visit www.cmc-canada.ca or call 1-800-268-1148.

Build the profession. Join the Association.