MEMBERSHIP PATH

The CMC Designation

As a member of CMC-Canada, you're on your way to getting your Certified Management Consultant (CMC) Designation and joining the ranks of the most distinguished consultants worldwide. As the world's only internationally recognized credential for management consultants, a CMC Designation means more opportunities, a higher level of credibility, and even better service for your clients.

Competitive Advantage

Holding the CMC Designation will ignite your professional reputation while unlocking unparalleled career advancement opportunities.

Recognition and Promotion

Position yourself as a leader in your industry and take part in shaping its future with the CMC Designation.

Professional Development and Learning

CMCs have access to a range of professional development resources to help you stay current with emerging trends and industry best practices.

MAS PROGRAM

Management Advisory Services

The Management Advisory Services (MAS) program allows eligible small and medium size businesses to access between 40-60 hours of consulting services from a qualified CMC, funded by the National Research Council - Industrial Research Assistance Program (NRC-IRAP).

Once you earn your CMC Designation, you can complete additional training to qualify as an MAS consultant.

CONNECT & GROW

Member Events & Professional Development

We host a range of in-person and virtual events, professional development programs and webinars, open exclusively to our members. We offer professional development courses on ethics, career development, and more. We often add new topics to meet market trends, member demand, and interest, so feel free to reach out if there's something you'd like to learn about!

CMC-CANADA

Career Centre

Our ambitious members are always looking for opportunities to enhance their practice, whether that means finding new job opportunities or hiring top talent. Our Career Centre is your go-to resource for job hunting, partnership opportunities, and recruitment.

CMC-CANADA

Mentorship Program

Whether you're looking to tap into the wisdom of established consultants or want to pass down your own knowledge, our mentorship programs for students and professionals will facilitate the kind of connections you're looking for.

Volunteer Opportunities

Get involved with your local, provincial, and national CMC communities by volunteering in a number of capacities. From supporting events, writing blogs facilitating a discussion, or sitting on council, there are plenty of opportunities available that can foster professional growth and development.

Community Groups

Through our Member Hub, CMC-Canada members have access to a number of community groups based on interests, industries, and organizational functions. Through forums, news feeds and discussion boards, we build online communities to give members the opportunity to learn about topics of interest, connect with like-minded consultants, and share ideas that can improve your practice, and the profession as a whole.

Advocacy Work

CMC-Canada is assertive in its efforts to lobby the federal government to recognize the Certified Management Consultant (CMC) Designation as a desired qualification in bidding on consulting opportunities. We keep members informed about changes to legislation and other government initiatives as they occur. We also frequently provide feedback to Canadian government committees on issues related to both procurement of professional services, and the management consulting profession.

STUDENT MEMBERSHIP

Opportunities for Student Members

With a discounted student membership, you can enjoy all the benefits outlined in this document. Membership is a great way to put your consulting career on the fast track and begin your journey to earn the CMC designation.

Academic Partner Program (APP)

If you are attending one of our partner institutions, you can become a member, free of charge, and start earning your CMC Designation through our Academic Partner Program (APP). This program will allow you to start receiving credits towards your CMC Designation within the course offerings of your school and graduate with a clear path to the credential.
